JERSEY TALE had the rail position tracking the lone speed pacesetter down the backside, was well in hand chasing on the rail early through the turn, started to move in being coaxed along by the quarter marker, shifted to the two path between horses having aim on the inside leader turning for home and steadily edged up down the lane under right handed asking and drove by for the win in deep stretch. LASSIES HALO was away alertly clearing off and crossing over loose up top on the fence at the half, rolled along unopposed increasing the advantage in midturn, hugged the rail still in command entering the stretch, was asking for the wire clinging on up front with a sixteenth to go having rivals bearing down outside but could not find more in deep stretch giving way to the winner in the final seventy yards while just lasting for the place share as well. I KNEW I COULD was forwardly placed on the outside keeping tabs on the front two runners in the early stages, travelled two wide outside the eventual winner taking closer order at the quarter pole, shifted to the three path in the hunt straightening out for the drive but could only finish up mildly in the final eighth of a mile being a clear third while just missing getting to the tiring early leader at the wire for second money. REALLY IN SYNC broke outwards trading bumps on the start, had only one runner beaten along the back straightaway, could see the group relegated to the rear while still under a snug hold at the five sixteenths pole, shaved the corner lengthening stride and darted up the fence leaving the furlong marker passing outside rivals to be a fringe player in the end. HEARTS COLLIDE broke inwards exchanging bumps at the start, settled on the inside in mid-division along the backstretch, had to be driven on for more taking the short way on the bend keeping pace by the quarter pole, duelled in the two path between rivals for a piece of the prize at the top of the lane but evened out in the final furlong. ISLAND TIME was paired up with an inside foe sitting in the middle of the pack, was roused for more between horses three wide at the quarter pole offering little response, moved out to the four path in upper stretch but failed to fire in the stretch running. SUPER HAPPY GAL was void of early foot trailing down the backside, made a brief move going past an inside runner leaving the three furlong marker, swung out widest in the five path for the stretch drive but came up empty outside runners in mid-stretch.
