MISTY EYED had an ideal set up all alone down the backside watching the contesting lead threesome, under a snug hold took closer order on the fence at the half, shifted out measuring the front duo at the five sixteenths pole, loomed boldly outside in the four path entering the stretch and drove by seizing control leaving the furlong marker to win going away in the end. CANDID CANDACE was inside a rival close to the back end only ahead of the troubled starter, moved in two wide on the turn closing the gap smartly by the quarter pole, shifted to the five path in the mix straightening out for the drive, could not quicken with the winner by the furlong pole but still valiantly fought on outside getting the nod at the wire for the place share. DAFINA stumbled badly to her knees being allowed to regain her composure trailing the group on the fence down the backside, started to quickly close the gap on the rail in midturn travelling well in hand, scraped paint getting into contention at the top of the stretch, fought on bravely inside with a furlong to go, idled slightly at the seventy yard marker losing the battle for place at the finish line but still showed a gutsy effort considering such a poor start. MORE MONEY HUNNY was hustled on the rail leaving the chute dueling for the lead with two others entering the backstretch, had a slim lead pestered by an outside foe around the bend, shifted to the two path putting away the early speed rivals turning for home but had little left for the late running and faded between horses by the sixteenth pole lasting at the finish line for a minor award. KNOTTY AND NICE vied between runners up top down the backstretch, continued to battle outside through the oval, gave way fighting on the front end with runners on both sides in upper stretch and tired in the stretch drive. DYNAMIC STRIKE settled near the rear on the outside, travelled three wide on the bend narrowing the margin by the quarter pole, swung out widest in the six path taking the corner but needed more in the late going unable to get involved in the final furlong running. CRUMLIN TROUBLE argued for the lead three deep down the backside, was the first of the lead trio to give way up top dropping back by the half, retreated steadily between foes on the turn by the quarter pole and emptied out in upper stretch galloping on home in the late going.
