LUCERRA tracked the pace two wide, came under pressure approaching the quarter pole, swung three wide into the lane, and wore down the leader in the final furlong. HIGH MAGIC hustled away to clear the field in the opening furlong, maintained a clear margin through the turn under confident handling, responded when set down at the top of the stretch, but could not hold off the winner near the sixteenth marker while holding clear for second. CLOCK broke awkwardly to the inside, chased in the two-path, launched a bid approaching the quarter pole, slipped through along the rail entering the stretch run, then weakened and failed to threaten the top two. BUTTER B GOOD broke alertly, tracked off the pace in the three- or four-path down the backstretch, came under pressure on the turn, and failed to close any ground through the drive. SPUN BY GRACE ducked in at the start to bother an inner rival, dropped to the rear while failing to handle the going, swung wide turning for home, and improved position late. SILVER SHAMROCK broke outward to be off a step or two slow, chased from the back under a steady drive, failed to make headway, and faded through the final furlong. RAINBOW LIGHTNING lost the path after the break when an outer rival came over, advanced mildly in the four-path, failed to sustain the bid, and had little to offer in the late stages.
