Footnotes | View Glossary Of Terms

UNION DOLLY broke well, raced off the early pace while keeping to the two-path, kept to task under steady urging in the stretch and was up in the final yards. HIALEAH HOTTIE was a bit reluctant to load, had god speed from the start, made the front, then dueled with MORE THAN A DIVA to the turn, then put that rival in right and kicked on, came into the stretch with a clear lead and was going strong to the end, but was outfinished in the final yards by the winner. CHROME ATTACK raced mid-pack early, moved up a bit on the turn, kept on well to the finish, but could not get to the top two in the stretch. MORE THAN A DIVA sprinted to the lead from the start under coaxing, then briefly dueled with HIALEAH HOTTIE until that one came over heading into the turn, steadied just past the seven-sixteenths marker, then came back on in the stretch, raced on the wrong lead, then hopped a shadow near the furlong pole, and was outfinished. RACEDAY ATTIRE chased well behind the main pack to the stretch, then was gaining in the late stages. LOST SUNSET came away a little awkwardly, then settled close up inside, came off the rail midway through the turn, then swung six wide into the stretch but lacked the needed response. RAMBERT was under a ride from the start, was up with the leaders to the turn, then dropped back a bit, came back on to bid four-wide at the head of the stretch, was stuck behind horses in upper stretch, then unable to re-bid once clear. FROSTED ECLAIR dropped back after the start, chased to the stretch, then did not show much interest in the late stages. CALL'EM ALL unseated the rider in the gate before the start, then hopped in the air at the start, spotted the field a dozen lengths, was kept to task, then regained contact with the field in deep stretch. FACTOR THAT was hustled up four-wide to press the early pace, loomed at the quarter pole, then faltered in upper stretch.
